Carranza And Rebels In Battle

YUCA, ARIZ., May 12.—A former lieutenant of the Carranza forces after shooting to death Captain Carter G. Calles, nephew of General P. Elias Calles, at San Luis, a small garrison town in Sonora early today, took possession of the town in the name of the Carranza regime, according to a telephone message received here and later corroborated.

According to the message, the former lieutenant took charge of all arms and ammunition at San Luis, which is 25 miles below the international border. A small detachment of troops commanded by Captain Calles had been aligned with the Sonora revolutionists.

VERA CRUZ, May 12.—(By The Associated Press)—Furious fighting between rebel troops and forces commanded by President Carranza occurred yesterday at Hacienda Tamarit, on the Mexican National railroad north of San Marcos, state of Puebla, according to dispatches received here. The area of the battlefield is reported to be approximately five square miles. President Carranza is said in wireless messages from Mexico City to have personally directed the operations of his troops for eight hours on Tuesday.

Terrific storms have swept the mountain region where the struggle is being on and telegraphic communication has been interrupted in the immediate vicinity of the scene of battle. It was known, however, that heavy rebel reinforcements have been sent to San Marcos by rebel chiefs, artillery being rushed forward to force the surrender of the troops still loyal to the president. General Guadalupe Sanchez, his zone to Esperanza with 15 personal staff and five trainloads of troops to cooperate in what is believed to be the decisive action of the rebellion. Esperanza is about 40 miles from the scene of battle.

Many Police Barracks And Public Properties Are Attacked, Robberies Follow

LONDON, May 12.—Reports of an unusual number of activities by armed and masked men in various sections of Ireland, were received in London today. The reports began trickling in early in the morning and by noon had reached the proportions of an avalanche. As at Easter time many police barracks were attacked, and a large number of them destroyed.

Most of the barracks which were the object of attack, were not occupied by the regular police force, which had been sent to the larger centers. Income tax officers were again attacked and many documents were destroyed. A notable instance of such attacks was a raid upon income tax office in the heart of Belfast.

At the Irish office it was said at mid-afternoon that that office was without advice concerning the events mentioned in the reports.

Meanwhile Viscount French, the viceroy who is in London for a conference with Andrew Bonar Law, the government leader in the house of commons, regarding the policy to be pursued with a view to the restoration of order in Ireland.

The reports of the demonstrations followed closely the announcement made by Mr. Bonar Law in the house of commons that General Sir Nevill Macready, military commander of Ireland, was inaugurating new plans through which it was expected conditions shortly would be improved.

DUBLIN, May 12.—At least 49 police barracks in various parts of Ireland were wiped out in the course of widespread destruction of public property and other activities by bands of armed and masked men in various parts of Ireland last night. Five income tax and customs offices also were raided and papers found in them burned.

Two mail cars and one mail train were held up and official papers taken from them. One man was killed in the outskirts of Dublin, where the barracks were being burned. The Rev. T. G. Wilkinson, one of the canons of Down Cathedral at Down Patrick, was shot and critically wounded while pursuing raiders on the street. The houses of two newspaper editors were raided and one anti-Sinn Féin editor was tarred and feathered. Some of the police barracks destroyed were unoccupied and others were inhabited only by the custodians. The reports of the raiders' activities have been pouring in all day from numerous sections.

LONDON, May 12.—The British government decided to create a special judicial body to examine the cases of Irishmen who are under arrest. It was announced in the House of Commons today by Andrew Bonar Law, the government leader.

Concerted Action To Relieve Freight Congestion In U. S. Becomes Imperative Necessity

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 12.—Shortage of cars was given by most authorities as the principal cause of the congestion, with lack of adequate personnel and motive power as important contributory causes. The fact that the strike of railroad employees still was in progress in some districts had depleted train and yard crews at important gateway connections and prevented a clearing of these distributing points, it was said.

The committee on car service of the American Railroad Association, estimated 255,000 cars tied up or delayed in transit at this time.

And the Women Won

CHEYENNE, WYOMING, May 12.—Women will occupy all positions of the government of Jackson, Wyoming, as a result of the defeat of the men candidates in the election, according to unofficial returns. Two tickets were placed in the field, one consisting only of women, the other of men. The only issue in the campaign was that of sex.

Indiana Republicans Blame Wilson For Treaty Delay; Welcome It As Campaign Issue

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 12.—Charging responsibility to President Wilson for the delay in ratifying the peace treaty and welcoming it as an issue in the campaign, the resolutions committee of the Republican state convention in session here today submitted its report to the delegates. It declared "our absolute opposition to the covenant of the league of nations as submitted by the president" and that "we fully approve the action of the Republicans of the Senate in resisting its adoption."

The report further put the Republican party on record as in favor of a world court to administer international justice for the "judicial settlement of international disputes."

"The present policy in Mexico was condemned as 'insincere and prejudicial to the interests of this country as well as those of Mexico' and pledged the inauguration of a fixed and forced policy of solving Mexican problems."

"Wanted extravagance during the past eight years in squandering the people's money and wasting the country's products" were condemned and a pledge given to reduce the federal taxes and revise the federal tax laws.

It put the party on record as opposed to government ownership of railroads, declaring the transportation system of the country should be privately owned and managed under strict governmental regulation.

Forged Cablegram Introduced By Adm'l Sims As Testimony, Declares Secretary Daniels

DEBS HEADS SOCIALIST TICKET FOR PRESIDENT

NEW YORK, May 12.—Eugene V. Debs, federal convict No. 2,251, was nominated by acclamation for the presidency of the United States at the Socialist party's national convention here today. Debs is serving a ten year term in the federal prison at Atlanta, for the violation of the Espionage act.

Cheer upon cheer greeted the naming of the Socialist leader. The din was continuous, as all those who had been able to crowd their way into the convention hall strained forward, erect on the platform, where was set a life-sized portrait of Debs, framed in black.

Debs now, is convict No. 2,251 in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta. He began serving a 10-year sentence for violation of the war time Espionage act April 13, 1919, when he entered the Moonsville, W. Va., federal penitentiary after all appeals in his behalf had failed. He was removed to the Atlanta prison last June.

This is 65 years old. His presidential nomination today is the fifth his party has given him. He was a Democrat before he became a Socialist. In the late seventies, he served two terms in the Indiana legislature from Terre Haute, his home town, and figured considerably in politics before that. His present imprisonment resulted from a speech in Canton, Ohio, on June 16, 1918, which led to his arrest two weeks later for opposing the war and urging labor to cease all activities which in any way tended to prolong it.

No candidate has been decided upon for the vice presidency. Party leaders predicted that the vice presidential contest would be between Seymour Stebbins of Chicago, general counsel of the socialist party and Prof. Scott Nearing.

When the delegates reconvened this morning they began consideration of the party's platform for the 1920 campaign. The Illinois delegation had its substitute ultra-radical platform ready to offer in place of the one submitted by Morris Billquist for the regular platform committee but it was predicted that the "conservative" group in the convention would put through their platform with only minor amendments, as they did the declaration of principles.

The convention will conclude its deliberations tomorrow. The delegates and a large number of members of the party then will go by special train to Washington, where a demonstration will be held Saturday in behalf of Amnesty for political prisoners. A committee will call upon Secretary Tumulty to place before him memorial on the subject for President Wilson's consideration.

AERIAL POSTMEN KILLED

OSKALOOSA, IA.—W. J. McCallister, superintendent, Chicago-Omaha aerial mail service, killed, and H. H. Johnson, Fremont, Ohio, pilot, killed when their airplane was blown into trees.

Donahy intimated today that he will insist on the court dealing "necessary expenses" such as the law allows judges while holding court away from home. He intimated that he may ask the court to determine how much food is necessary for a judge to do good work on and whether a meal that costs $2.50 is necessarily more nutritious than one costing 60 cents. Donahy holds that the higher priced meal does not of necessity provide the most nutrition.

Judge Donahy today issued this statement regarding Judge Vickers' suit:

"I am glad Judge Vickers has brought an action to compel me to honor his expense account. The people have a right to know whether they must depend on the law or the auditor of state to protect their treasury and eliminate extravagance."

CHICAGO, May 12.—Abolition of the honor system among the students of Northwestern University is announced by the faculty. Dean Reg A. Fiskinger, of the college of liberal arts, stated today that one of the reasons for the suspension was that the students had failed to live up to the regulations during examinations and that cheating during examinations had increased under the honor system.

INDIANA'S "BIG FOUR" CHOSEN AT CONVENTION

CONVENTION HALL, INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 12.—United States Senators James P. Watson and Harry S. New, Governor James P. Watson, and former Senator Albert J. Beveridge were elected Indiana's "big four" delegates at large to the Republican national convention at Chicago.

The motion was made by Representative Will R. Wood of Lafayette and was adopted without division. On the same motion E. M. Wasmuth, state chairman, Mrs. Charles A. Corliss of South Bend and Mrs. Joseph B. Keating of Indianapolis and W. A. Gains of Evansville, were elected alternates.

The failure of Major General Wood's supporters to obtain unequalled instructions in more than three of the 13 district meetings last night, in which Senator Elihu Johnson obtained two district delegations and eight favored going to Chicago unopposed, led to a general belief that the state convention will follow a similar course and that the delegates at large will be unopposed.

Officer Had High Old Time On Whiskey

ASHTABULA, O., May 12.—C. C. Barton, an officer from the United States district court in Youngstown, was being held in his room at the Rockwell house, in Jefferson, today by Sheriff H. C. Blodgett, for alleged disorderly conduct and intoxication, pending the arrival from Youngstown of another officer to whom Barton will be turned over.

Barton, it is said, started from Jefferson for Youngstown at noon yesterday, with 24 half pint samples, from each of 24 kegs of whiskey taken in a raid on smugglers here last Saturday. The samples were to be tested for alcoholic content.

Barton, it is said, treated some of his friends to the liquor and partook of a liberal quantity of it himself. The sheriff arrested Barton at Andover last night, where he was said to have gone with members of a theatrical troupe he had met in Jefferson. All but four half pints of the liquor had been disposed of, it was said.

BARES SIMS' MISTAKES IN CONVOY SUGGESTIONS

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 12.—Charges that a cablegram produced before the senate naval investigating committee during the testimony of Rear Admiral Sims, here a forged signature were made today by Secretary Daniels. He offered a message which Admiral Sims had presented as part of his criticism of the navy department and which purported to have been signed by the secretary.

"Somewhere somebody was guilty of signing my name to an official dispatch, which the original, here produced, shows I never signed," Mr. Daniels told the committee, "or of altering a dispatch by erasing the real signature and substituting 'Daniels'."

The concluding paragraph of the cablegram read:

"In regard to convoys I consider that American vessels having armed guards are safer when sailing independently."

Mr. Daniels testified that immediately upon reading the admiral's testimony he knew he never sent such a cablegram and he started an investigation.

The secretary said he finally found the original dispatch in the British embassy, through which it had been sent.

OVERLAND MAN FEELS TEN YEARS YOUNGER AND IS BACK ON JOB

Was Helpless For Weeks At A Time From Rheumatism Before He Began Taking Tanlac.

LEG SWOLLEN TO TWICE NORMAL SIZE

Temple Gains Twenty Pounds And Says He Hasn't An Ache Or Pain Of Any Kind.

"Tanlac has put an end to a case of rheumatism that had about laid me out altogether and besides, I have gained twenty pounds in weight in the last six weeks," said John C. Temple, a valued employee of the Overland Automobile Co., living out on Cassell Road, Toledo, Ohio.

"For five years I have been suffering from rheumatism in my right leg all the time. This will be the only notification as no cards will be sent out."

have tried I have grown worse all the time. Every now and then the rheumatism would get so bad I would have to take my bed. Why, sometimes my leg and foot were swollen up twice their natural size and I was laid up in bed helpless for weeks at a time. I lost half a year from work during this time and the worst part of it was I was in pain and suffering nearly all the time. I lost my appetite and didn't relish a thing I forced myself to eat and I felt off in weight until I got down to one hundred and twenty-eight pounds.

"Some time ago a friend of mine advised me to try Tanlac and it was a lucky decision I made to give it a trial. The rheumatism commenced to lose its grip right away, and now I believe it has all been driven out of my system for I haven't had an ache or pain of any kind for three weeks. I am working every day and I feel as strong and active as I ever did. I have gained twenty pounds in weight and I am feeling ten years younger and a medicine that will do that deserves all the praise I can give it."

Tanlac is sold in Portsmouth by the Fisher and Storch Pharmacy and by the leading druggists in every town.

Close to 100 couples were present Wednesday night at the Policeman's Hall, given under the auspices of the police force in Baseman's Hall. The police had been selling tickets thick and fast throughout the week, and disposed of nearly a thousand.

Dear Dolly—I am a young man of 21 and have never been out with a girl. It is not because I didn't want to go but because no one ever to go with me. I am a nice boy and fairly good looking. How can I get a girl?

BASHEU, ROY.

You must remember that it is the man's place to do the asking. You will not have to make many attempts before you find someone who wants to go with you. If you "sweep-stake" enough to ask me to go somewhere with you, I suppose all your girl friends are wondering when you are going to wake up and show them a good time.

Dear Miss Wise—Please tell me how to make strawberry shortcake. I mean the biscuit dough kind. Thank you.

YOUNG WIFE.

Short cake—2 cups of flour, 1/2 teaspoon of salt, one heaping teaspoon of baking powder, one tablespoon of butter or lard, milk. Sift the dry ingredients; rub in the butter; add enough sweet milk to make a soft dough. Roll out a half inch thick and bake in a hot oven. When cold cut open, butter and spread with berries. Over the top layer of fruit spread whipped cream or meringue made of the whites of two eggs and two tablespoons of granulated sugar. If the meringue is used brown slowly in oven. Serve cold with cream. Doesn't it make you hungry? To read about it.

Dear Dolly—Please tell me how to remove an indelible ink stain from aingham dress. A READER.

Soak in strong salt water and then wash in ammonia. It might be a good idea to try this on a scrap of the gingham first to see what effect it will have on the colors in the dress.

Dear Dolly—If the Vice President should die which of the cabinet officers would succeed him?

ANXIOUS TO KNOW.

No provision is made for filling a vacancy in the office of Vice President.

Jackson, O.

Dear Dolly—I have read the letter of "A Married Woman" in the Sunday Times of May 10th also "A Reader's" answer. "A Reader" ought to be a minister. Hers (or his) is certainly sound doctrine, a service article nowadays. I am a retired evangelist and can easily give a diagnosis of "Married Women's" trouble and prescribe an unfailing cure. If "Married Woman" will send me her address, I will endeavor to help her, by means of several sermons and short articles. I have composed for such cases. Services free. Would also like to hear from "A Reader" and any others in need of help.

SURE DEATH TO CORNS

"Get-It" Makes 'Em Lose Their Grip and Lift Off Painlessly.

The first thing "Get-It" does when it lands on a corn or callus is to snuff out the pain. Then it shrivels the corn or callus and loosens it.

Soon, it is almost ready to fall off. You help it just a little by lifting it off with your thumb and finger. You don't even feel it. Because there is no hurt left in it. Millions have proved it the cleanest, surest, safest and most pleasant method. "Get-It" is the never failing, guaranteed money-back corn remover costs but a trifle at any drug store. Mfg. by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

Cocoon Oil Makes A Splendid Shampoo

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Mulitied coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One of two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily and removes every particle of dirt, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulitied coconut oil shampoo at almost any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

moons and short articles. I have composed for such cases. Services free. Would also like to hear from "A Reader" and any others in need of help.

SOCIETY

A charming bridgefest, honoring Mrs. Helen Johnson, was given Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Sam M. Johnson and Miss Emma Johnson, at their home, 509 Second street. The rooms were made springlike with bouquets of iris, valley lilies and gladioli, and other flowers. Devotees of bridge were invited for the early hours of the afternoon, when eleven tables were arranged in the attractively decorated rooms. The highest score was made by Mrs. Grant Williams, who was presented with a brass door-knocker as the honor.

In line to receive the guests who were cordially welcomed at a later hour were: Mrs. Sam M. Johnson, Mrs. Helen Johnson and Miss Emma Johnson. Despite the defying elements, a large number of guests gathered to the honor of the hostess, who recently moved to this city from Buffalo. Mrs. John Decker and Mrs. L. P. Halldeman assisted in the hospitable duties of the afternoon, while in serving a delicious ice cream and tea. Mesdames Raymond, York, W. R. Sprague, John A. Holmes, H. B. Lake, Frank Thompson and Watson Goddard graciously assisted. Little Miss Caroline Johnson, the beautiful little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Helen Johnson, added much to the entertainment of the guests, in her bright and happy manner, lifting among them like a butterfly. The favors were coronas of valley lilies and wild iris. Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. Jennings W. Francis, Jr., of Lancaster, Pa.; Mrs. Sterling Pearce of Indianapolis; Mrs. Lamford P. Hindemann of Cleveland, and Mrs. Owen Dodson of Hammond, Ind.

The nuptials were quietly solemnized at the home of Mrs. Thomas Cahill and Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Cahill, close friends of the groom, at 10 o'clock by Mr. George P. Horst, using the impressive ring service. The attendants were Miss Davidson and Mr. David Williams.

The bride was beautiful in a toilet of dark blue beaded georgette over flesh-colored satin, with becoming hat of medium size, fashioned of straw and tulle of the same shade.

After the ceremony the happy couple proceeded on their honeymoon to Cleveland, Buffalo and Niagara Falls. The bride's traveling suit was dark blue, ultra fashionable, with modish wedding hat and accessories to harmonize.

The Buckeye Social Club will dance at Bresman's Academy Friday evening.

Mr. Sam R. Thompson, an N. & W. railroad conductor, with headquarters in this city, has received word of the marriage of his daughter, Miss Hazel Thompson, of Holden, Mo., to Mr. Claude W. Nichols of Linton, Mo., Wednesday, May 5. The bride is the only daughter of Mr. Thompson and is a very attractive and accomplished young lady.

The groom is a young man with many friends. He served in France for fourteen months during the World War and figured in some of the fiercest battles, but escaped unharmed. The young couple will make their future home in Kansas City, Mo.

THE GROWTH OF ANDERSONS' STORE

Andersons' Store first saw the light of day in November, 1871, in a frame building which stood next to Fisher & Streich's drug store on Chatham street. The firm name G. W. Anderson. The store sold boots and shoes and men's hats. From August, 1875 to August, 1878 the store was run in connection with Gilmore & Warner on West Second street where the Hibbs Hardware Co. later was located. While at this location a line of men's clothing was added in 1878 but on account of lack of capital was closed out in 1877. On May 1st, 1878, W. B. Anderson was given an interest in the business and the firm name changed to G. W. Anderson & Son. From August, 1878 to August, 1879 this last young man of a firm that was laying a foundation for a great future, was located in a one-story building on the north side of Second street on the alley west of its former location. Space now occupied by a second hand store with a two story brick building. All this time father and son did all the work connected with the store.

From 1879 to August, 1888 the firm occupied the west half of the first floor of the building now occupied by the Hinkamp Furniture Co. Irving Dress used the upper floors for a shoe factory. In the fall of 1888 a line of dry goods was added.

From 1889 to January, 1890 Andersons' store occupied the building where Wesley Hall Mission now is, and while in this place a line of women's cloaks and furs were added, also the first woman employee in the person of Miss Louella Lawson. Thus you can see the store beginning to expand. In 1893, G. W. Anderson, the founder of the business, died, his widow succeeding to his interests. In 1896 E. G. Anderson was admitted into partnership, the firm being known then as G. W. Anderson & Sons.

When Portsmouth began to do some growing herself and local capital erected what was then the fine Damarin building, G. W. Anderson & Sons were the progressive firm to occupy the fine large store room on the ground floor. They moved to this building, corner Second and Court, in 1900. In this location the store did a profitable and growing business, the sales more than doubled those of the former location. Millinery was added to the other lines, and the big department store of today was a step nearer. During this period the store grew until it employed eight people and was truly a "Dry Goods Emporium" as known in those days.

In 1900 the Crawford building was erected for this company which had but grown its quarters and when this location was occupied additional lines of men's furnishings, floor coverings and house furnishings were added. It then took eighteen employees to take care of the increasing clientele. In 1903 the adjoining building on Chatham street was acquired and connected to the Crawford building by openings and a line of men's clothing was added. In 1904 the business was incorporated under the name of The Anderson Bros. Co. with the following officers: President, W. B. Anderson; Vice President, E. G. Anderson; Secretary and Treasurer, W. W. Anderson. The firm has continued to grow until today it occupies all of both buildings (Crawford and Anderson) and the employees range in number from seventy-five during ordinary times to more than a hundred in rush periods.

Times 46 Years Old

Andersons' Store has on display in one of its windows a file containing copies of The Portsmouth Times of 1874, the year the store was founded. Contained therein is the first advertisement ever run by this store, and the headlines of the ad are "COME TO STAY." That was forty-six years ago, but nobody doubts that the statement has been carried out, at least for almost a half century and that the store is not only "staying" but has grown considerable.

Cash Registers

In order to give quicker and better service, National Cash Registers have been installed in every department of the Anderson Bros. Co. Store. This firm believes that its patrons will be better pleased if they are not required to wait so long for packages and change as has been the custom at most all stores where cash register systems have been in use.

Women Will Be Interested In These Specials at Andersons'

We know that most women will want to come to this sale about every day of the year. In order to make it more interesting, we will have some new special every day. For instance on next Tuesday, all day, we will sell table oil cloth in white, 15 inches wide at the special price of 40c a yard. Tuesday only, remember the day.

On next Wednesday we are going to give away for only a dollar apiece one hundred percale bungalow aprons for women to the first one hundred women who come to the bungalow near sale on the second floor that day. They will need away rapidly so come early for yours. Only $1.

Next Friday, May 21st, is corset day, and Goddess knows, according to their own testimony, our patrons always get full value in this section. But on this day we are going to give you more value for your money than ever. On this day we will sell at a discount of twenty per cent, any and all corsets worth $2.50 and over. Also brassieres at $1.50. Make a mark on the calendar of corset day.

Anniversary Specials Extraordinary

Note carefully the days these are in effect.

400 Pairs Women's Pumps and Oxfords At $3.95

On Friday, May 14th we will place on special sale one large assortment of women's pumps and Oxfords, all high grade values, all sizes but various styles, at the old fashioned price of $3.95. There are only about four hundred pairs in the lot and at $3.95 per pair you may be sure they will go out a whoopin'. Don't wait until next week and then come in expecting to get some of this special. If you are interested, come Friday and the earlier the better.

Great Sale of Musing Underwear

Beginning Saturday morning and continuing until sold we will offer the biggest special sale of Musing underwear in the history of the store. Musing underwear is as staple as thread and section reduced at all. The factory, owing to trouble in securing yarns had to discontinue one of its lines of women's union suits. They disposed of stock on hands at old prices. We purchased heavily especially for this Anniversary sale and consequently are able to offer women's Musing Summer Union-suits in the $1.50 quality for 95c a suit. Sizes 10, 42 and 44 are $1.05.

Sale of Cut and Pressed Glass Ware at $1

This sale is for next Monday only. Don't forget the day. We have six hundred bright, sparkling pieces of cut and pressed glass ware including bowls, creams, sugars, vases, baskets and fancy shaped dishes of various sizes and shapes usually found in a complete line of cut glass. These pieces are all heavy and thick and are very slightly. The patterns are attractive and the price, only $1, will cause practically the entire lot to move out in one day. Monday morning. Choice $1.

Remember The Shirt Sale At $1.50

You know about these shirt sales. You've perhaps seen our men's store crowded with fellows buying themselves anywhere from one to a dozen shirts at a crack. And men know bargains no less than women. Well, here are over five hundred shirts, that famous Eagle brand, known so well and we place them on sale next Thursday. Now don't get impatient fellows. The command at Bunker Hill was "Wait until you can see the whites of their eyes" so get all set for the big day and when Thursday rolls around, "Ring" just like that, and the sale will be on. Of course these shirts are supposed to be a little defective but it would take a woman to find it, a man would hardly see it, and if it were not, for this the shirts would be selling from $2.25 to $5. So long, fellows, see you next Thursday morning, but not before 8 new time. Choice $1.50.

OBITUARY

At the noon, Mr. Stevens, who was a student of 1320 High street, left Portsmouth for Colorado ten months ago in quest of regaining his health. He at first gradually improved, and up until last month ago wrote of coming home. He suffered a sudden change and died about a week ago.

The deceased was born at Friendship, N. H. He was a son of the late Will and Sallie Stevens, and was 31 years of age. The mother died in this city about six months ago.

At the age of 21 he enlisted in the United States army and served a three year period. He later took up the fur-trade in Cincinnati and then came Portsmouth where he was employed as a showmaker. His last work was as owner of the Model Restaurant, Eleventh and Dawson streets, closing out his business to go west.

He left the bereaved wife, Mrs. Ida Stevens, two children, Freda Louise and Lemuel Sarah survive.

Mr. Stevens was of the Baptist faith. He was a member of the local Order Knights of Maccabees.

The body will be removed from the coffin to the home, 1320 High street, where the funeral will be conducted probably Saturday.

Mrs. Elizabeth Mason
Death at 11 o'clock Thursday night of Mrs. Elizabeth Mason, the mother summons coming at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. L. F. Neundorfer 1341 Ninth street. Mrs. Mason was the widow of John Mason. She was 45 years of age Oct. 26/ last and had been bedfast since last October suffering with weakness. Death was caused by indigestion.

Mrs. Elizabeth Mason came to this city to make her home with her granddaughter nineteen years ago a short time after the death of her husband at Uffington, W. Va., where they resided for some years.

The deceased is survived by her granddaughter and a niece Mrs. John Neundorfer of Cincinnati.

After coming to this city Mrs. Mason had transferred her membership to the Blue-rod Methodist church.

Short funeral services will be held at the Neundorfer home Saturday morning at ten o'clock by Rev. C. E. Hummel. The remains will be taken to the noon N. and W. train Saturday to Mason City, W. Va., burial to be made at that place. The body will be taken direct to the cemetery from the train on arrival at Mason City.

Mrs. E. Louise Corson
Another of Portsmouth's best known and respected citizens was called to the land of eternal rest Wednesday night at 11:05 o'clock, when the final summons came to Mrs. E. Louise Corson, widow of the late Edward J. Corson, at her home, 828 Second street, death following an extended illness of complications. News of her death will be received with genuine sorrow by her many friends.

The deceased was born in Portsmouth December 20, 1847. She was a daughter of Judge and Mrs. William V. Peck. Her education was received in the schools of the city and on April 28, 1874, she was united in marriage to Edward J. Corson. Mr. Corson, it will be remembered, conducted a grocery at Second and Chillicothe streets for a number of years. He passed away six years ago, in January 1914. Mrs. Corson is the last of a family of fifteen children.

Of three was born to Mr. and Mrs. Corson, only one, George W. Corson, survives. Alan W. Corson died at the age of three years and Louis D. Corson passed away in 1917.

Mrs. Corson had not been in the best of health for over a year, and after being bedfast several days would again be able to be up and about her home. About three days ago she again became bedfast and from that time on her condition was very serious. Death not coming unexpectedly to the home-elite family, who were aware of her condition, and remained almost constantly at her bedside.

The deceased was a loving wife and mother, always looking after the welfare of her loved ones. She spent most of her life at the home on Second street, where she was a tireless worker. She was a faithful member of All Saints' church.

It is requested that no flowers be sent.

James Odle
Death Wednesday afternoon claimed another well known citizen of the West Side and a gallant soldier when James Odle passed away at his home on Tabb's Run half mile west of Friendship. He had been ill with paralysis since Christmas.

In addition to his wife Mr. Odle leaves three sons, Charles, Sherman and Ervin and four daughters, Mrs. Rosa Merston, Lulu, Minnie and Berber. The deceased served his flag during the conflict of 61-65 and was a man known for his brave deeds. He had long been an honored citizen of the West Side and was well known in Portsmouth.

Linen Canvas VS Cotton Canvas

Linen canvas makes a coat hold its shape permanently, cotton canvas shrinks and curls, pulling the coat out of shape.

Before the war, linen canvas was plentiful. A very large part of all linen used in the world was raised in Russia. Practically all canvas was spun and woven in Belgium—a small amount only in Ireland.

Since the war, it has been almost impossible to get pure linen canvas. As a result, more than half of all clothing made in the United States contains either all or part cotton canvas.

We were fortunate in having bought 160,000 yards of pure Irish linen canvas shortly after the war broke out and we have enough to last us through this season.

Another reason why UNITED WOOLEN CLOTHES hold their shape and wear so well.

AMERICANS EMINENTLY

NEW CASTLE COUNTY DOWNS

IRELAND, May 13.—(By the Associated Press.)—The last of the American entrants in the British Women's golf championship tournament was eliminated today. Miss Marion Holliday, of Westport, L. I., the only American survivor, was defeated in the fourth round by Miss Molly Griffin, who won by a score of six up and four to play.

EASTERN SOCIETY WOMEN SHUN RENO, WIN FREEDOM IN PARIS

Mrs. Leonard Thomas (left), Mrs. Philip Lydie (center) and Mrs. Ogden Mills (right).

The fact formerly current among eastern society women of going to Reno for their divorces is less marked today. It has been discovered that marital chains are broken quite as easily, and with more attendant pleasure and excitement, in Paris. Among the wives of American millionaires who have recently been and divorces in the French capital are Mrs. Ogden L. Mills, Jr., Mrs. Leonard Thomas and Mrs. Philip Lydie.

NEAT LITTLE SUIT FOR BABY BROTHER

It is time to think of the summer suit for the very young man of the house. Here is a neat and rather pretty (but you must not let him hear you call it pretty) style. It is rather economical, too, for it combines two materials. If made at home that means that an old suit or two old suits can be made over into a new one. The little trousers button on to the waist, but a very French belt hides them. The little pockets will also please the masculine mind. Blue and white rayon silk makes this model.

Fashion Note.

"We meet our ancient rivals again," Coach Hess of P. H. S. told a Times man late yesterday when he announced that he had just scheduled Ironton High for a dual track meet and field meet to be held at Millbrook Saturday afternoon.

Any announcement that Ironton is to compete with the local red and blue demons is certain to draw applause, for backers of the P. H. S. athletic teams will remember the last two dribblings inflicted on the upstart Ibs in football skirmishes. One ended 61 to 0 and the other 21 to 0, with P. H. S. on the long ends of both scores.

Rain has kept the foot-floored red and blue men from putting in the necessary time on the field and track, so the personnel of the team has not yet been announced. Yesterday they practiced in the gym, with the same prospects for today.

Each school will enter ten men, and it is probable that three athletes will be entered in each event. Should this be the case, those taking first, second and third places will be awarded 5, 3 and 1 points, respectively.

Here are the events: Broad jump, half mile run, 220 yard dash, 100 yard dash, shot put, pole vault, mile run, high jump, discus throw, 440 yard dash.

The meet will start at 2 o'clock, central standard time, and admission will be 25 cents.

French Champ

Knocked Out

JERSEY CITY, N. J., May 13.—

Low Tiedler, of Philadelphia, scored a technical knockout over George

Papin, the French lightweight boxing champion in the sixth round of a scheduled twelve round bout here tonight.

The Frenchman had been knocked down four times in the fifth round.

At the beginning of the sixth round he became the aggressor, raining right and left on Tiedler's head. Suddenly he stopped and dropped in the ring from exhaustion without having been struck by Tiedler.

Traveling With the Turkey.

Processions of all kinds are to be found in the streets of Istanbul and with no traffic regulations it is difficult to make much headway. In "The Daily Express of Istanbul" in Travel

Miss Lucy Garnett finds herself in mixed society. "In company with a large drove of turkeys, we take our way along the broad, straight street, lined on either hand with shops.

Presently the turkeys get into difficulties with a file of haimals bearing on their Atlantic shoulders piles of bedding and carefully decorated chests and coffers. * * * These hams and chests constitute the wedding trousseaus and "glorifying of a Turkish bride." The turkeys are soon remarshaled to be dispersed many times before they are finally landed safely near the great mosque where they are to be sold in celebration of a Moslem festival.

The Afternoon Game

LOUISVILLE, KY., May 13.—Kentucky hospitality meted Louisville $675,000 from 12,741 visitors. It has been estimated.

And, among the city's 25,000 guests—none was found to complain that the holiday was not worth the price.

The figures are based on Matt J. Winn's estimate that 10,000 persons attended the running of the classic and tentative figures from hotel men, restaurant proprietors, merchants and others who shared in the reaping.

Assuming that at least 25,000 of the attendees were outsiders and that one who spent less than $20 while there, the total left by these welcomed "strangers in the city" would be increased to $750,000, it was declared.

$1,000,000 is Grand Total

The total amount spent by home folks and outsiders combined, while in their derby holiday, is placed at a little more than $1,000,000. Figures given include admission fees collected at Churchill Downs.

It is estimated that at least 12,000 visitors remained over night, either Friday night, Saturday night, or both nights. Taking two nights as an average and estimating that rooms—for a mere place to sleep—cost an average of $4. It is declared that the sum garnered by hotel proprietors, boarding house keepers and persons "just accommodated," would be $96,000.

SEIZING THE OUTPOSTS

AL FRED J. Beveridge, of Indiana, who assumed to come back from the political graveyard, has been thrust back thence by the Republican national convention.

Thereby hangs the beginning of a contest that is going to rock the party from center to circumference. Beveridge followed Roosevelt in the ill-starred bolt of 1912 and was laid in the moribund Johnson, second chief of the bolt, has shown marvelous signs of quickening. So much so that he has become a big factor in the presidential race. It is his purpose to galvanize the party rather than himself by putting some progressive pep into it and as temporary chairman of the convention Beveridge with his matchless oratory was the surgeon to perform the injection.

This does not appeal to the Old Guard, of course. In control of the national committee it chose that utter conservative, Senator Lodge to open the proceedings and deliver the keynote speech. The end, however, is not there. The outlined process is not only to defeat Johnson in the skirmish but to eliminate him as a presidential factor. Everybody knows the Californian is not one to stand and take a drubbing, or run away. What he believes he is for and vociferously proclaims it to the whole world, even though the whole world be against him. He will fight down to the last ditch and can be depended upon to entertain his enemies to the full.

EVERYWHERE EXCEPT AT HOME

THERE is a sort of general surprise over the statement that General Alvaro Obregon, the rising man in Mexico, is an Irishman.

Yet, there isn't anything unusual in that. The transition from Obregon to Obregon is easy, and Irishmen have played a most important part in the creation and the affairs of the Latin republics and in many have been generals, admirals and governors. It is to their credit that they generally were found fighting on the side of right and liberty.

Indeed, there isn't a Christian country on earth today, that hasn't been embellished and ruled in some form by an Irishman. Irish scholars and colleges gave Germany her start in knowledge. Irishmen have furnished France with countless generals and a president or two. The best there is in Spain was cultured from Ireland. Austria has pinned her hope in an Irishman and England's best generals and admirals have nearly always been Irishmen.

Strangest of mockeries you can't keep an Irishman down, except on his native heath and for right hundred years he has got the worst of everything there and none of the best. Still for what Ireland has lost the world has gained through her loss.

Sugar is selling at from 25 to 40 cents a pound, dependent upon locality and store. There is a reason for this. Some people, who are never satisfied with anything an administration to which they are opposed does, caterwauls around until sugar was taken from under government control as to price. Because the supply was scant and the price somewhat stiff they put all the blame on the food commission. Now sugar is scarce and the price doubled. May be another reason why sugar is high is that the farmers are not raising much sorghum cane. During the war Herl Hoover urged them to plant the product to have therefrom just ordinary molasses, a substitute for sugar in many uses. His injunction was largely followed. Since the war cultivation has gone back of what it was before, far back.

They are not loved when they can't live up to class. Switzerland has intimated to the various kings and kinglets that found asylum in her confines, when royalty was going to smash that their room would be better than their company. You see the Swiss are a thrifty people. These uncrowned heads have to skin and pinch to make both ends meet and their space is needed for the money monarchs of America, who are expected to flock thitherward this summer.

If anybody had an idea that Josephus Daniels, the best secretary the navy ever had, wouldn't make an equally good witness before a snooping committee from congress, where the honor of the navy was concerned, he is at full and free liberty to change his opinion. Josephus is certainly handing it to 'em straight from the shoulder.

Can't please 'em all. Here's congress investigating the labor bureau for dealing too leniently with communists and "sich" and right over there is the Socialist convention at Chicago denouncing the same bureau because it has used the methods of Russian Czarism in casting into dungeon and deporting men guilty of no crime but that of free speech.

Expressions made by the Socialists in national session, at Chicago show that they don't think anything more of the two old parties than is thought of them.

The Diary of an Engaged Girl

IS CECIL IN LOVE OR TEMPORARILY INSANE?

Got back from Philly this morning, tired, but refreshed. The family remarked on my pale cheeks, and I punched one of them and told me he just knew that I had had the time of my life. He is the dearest thing. On top of hugging me to pieces he fished out a most thrilling emerald ring for his lady, which sent me into fits of delight. Assured me it was not a wedding present, just a little inter-vening gift, you know.

Mother was glad to see me, and asked me if I had behaved as I should while I was away. As for Aunt Cecilia, she just danced about, she was so glad to see my smiling face again. I just know they all miss my exciting self, when I am away. That's how it should be. My room has been straightened up (which means that I never can find the objects most dear to me) in my absence, and mother has bought me a new negligee. So everything is well.

Cecil longed to see me round lunch time, and asked me what sort of a time I had had. The boy looks a bit thin, and his eyes affected me strangely. I wonder if he could be in love with me. It would be strange, for I am everything that he most disapproves of, I imagine. But then he is so eccentric that I don't for a moment put it by him to fall for his direct opposite, and some one as unsuited to him in every way as a buttercup to a flower.

He told me that the home had been ghastly still and dull since I had departed, and that he had not enjoyed a single meal, they were all so loughless. Flattering to say the least, eh, what?

I was in an extremely fetching blue negligee, and so cool and composed, you've no idea, so I told him it was sweet to be missed and all that; then began to comb my hair.

The next thing I felt was a very soft kiss on the nape of my neck, and I turned to find Cecil very wild-eyed.

Hardly had I gotten rid of her, when Cecil came over to the lounge. I was artlessly draped on, and picked me up in his arms, just as though I was a baby. He was trembling, quite violently, and for the first time I was thoroughly frightened—at everything.

He kissed me on the mouth all the while, and then put me back and dashed out of the room.

Six-inch Hawser Only 2 Inches.

When you read that a vessel is moored to her pier by a six-inch or an eight-inch hawser you must not think that the hawser is six or eight inches in diameter. Such a hawser would make a hefty rope, too heavy for handling, the New York Sun explains. Hawser, unlike other ropes or cables, are measured according to their circumference, not according to their diameter. Therefore, a six-inch hawser means one that is six inches around, not six inches in diameter, since the circumference of a circle is to its diameter as three and one-seventh is to one.

When Stoppers Are Obsolete.

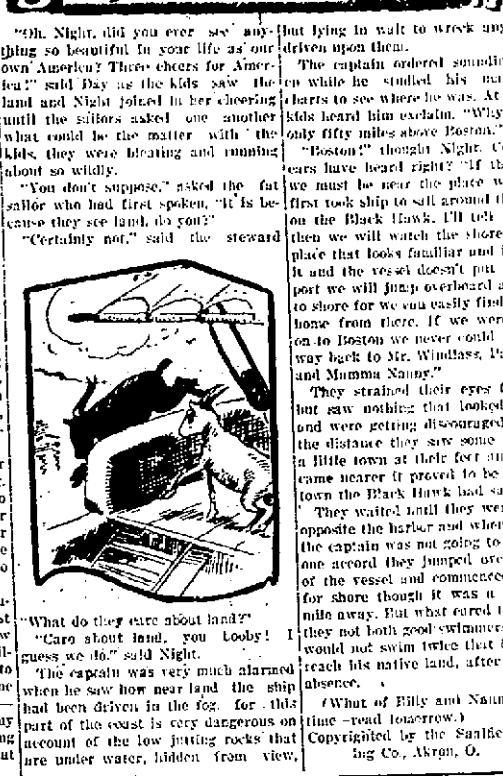

Bottle stoppers have an annoying habit of refusing to come out just when one wants them to go so. The following is a sure way of removing the most refractory stopper. By means of a feather apply a drop of oil to the neck of the bottle. Then put the bottle on a little distance from a fire, where it will become slightly warmed, but not hot. The oil rapidly works down in between the stopper and the neck, and by giving the whole thing a slight tap the stopper will come out.

Billy Whiskers
 BY FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

"Oh, Night, did you ever see any-thing so beautiful in your life as our own America? There's cheer for America while he studied his maps and charts to see where he was. At last the kids heard him exclaim, 'Why we are only fifty miles above Boston!'"

"Boston?" thought Night. Could his ears have heard right? "If that is so we must be near the place where we first took ship to sail around the world on the Black Hawk. I'll tell Day and then we will watch the shore for any place that looks familiar and if we see it and the vessel doesn't put into that port we will jump overboard and swim to shore for we can easily find our way home from there. If we were carried on to Boston we never could find our way back to Mr. Windlass, Papa Billy, and Mamma Nanny."

They strained their eyes for tons but saw nothing that looked familiar and were getting discouraged when in the distance they saw some hills with a little town at their feet and as they came nearer it proved to be the very town the Black Hawk had sailed from.

"They waited until they were directly opposite the harbor and when they saw the captain was not going to stop, with one accord they jumped over the side of the vessel and commenced to swim for shore though it was a good half-mile away. But what cared they? Were they not both good swimmers, and who would not swim twice that distance to reach his native land, after months of absence?"

A Rain Song

Patter, patter, spatter, spatter, Tapping on the window pane, Like a host of fairy dancers. Listen to the rain!

Hereditarily

"Your daughter has a fine tooth, Mrs. Mortimer."

"Yes, so they be fellin' me an' sure 'tis no wonder, for she loves the planny and niver tires of it; she has a great taste for moose, but this that's only natural, for her gran'father had his skull broke with a cornet at a stumper, since picnic!"—London 'Tribune.

The Difference

One summer, when little Martin was paying a visit to his cousin in Ohio he was taken to see an elderly woman. She was much attracted by Martin and asked him, 'Have you any brothers?'

"Oh, yes," replied little Martin. "I have two of them. One goes to high school and the other is a gentleman."

Meticulous Logic

The ball had gone over the railings, as balls will in suburban gardens, and a small, but unbalanced batsman appeared at the front door to ask for it.

"Then appeared an irate father: 'How dare you show yourself at my house? How dare you ask for your ball? Do you know you nearly killed one of my children with it?'

"But you've got ten children," said the logical lad, "and I've only got one baseball!"—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

New-York - Day - By - Day

NEW YORK, May 13.—The visitor to New York is impressed at once with the flamboyant note, its electric, its political flare. It takes a few years' residence here to see the other side of the side that is not reflected in its glories, its high life and the economic problems which do not find utterance in its denims and glitzy dress agent parades on Broadway.

Back of it all there is a quiet and intelligent life as busy going as the first page news of Commander's test, here they gather for diversion. They know each other and whisper the news of the neighborhood just as the mail men folk do when they gather at the post office to await the mail of the day.

There are many who have been tipped a head waiter $10 for a night's work, a venerable widow and her son, who know little about life, but they do not care. They have a foreigner point out the various of the Metropolitan Museum or the Zoological Gardens.

Consolidations

They were rehearsing for the opera, when the conductor was nearly frightened out of his boots by a terrific blast from the trombone player in the corner.

"What are you doing?" roared the conductor.

"I'm sorry, sir," came the reply. "It was a fly on my music. But," he added, with just a touch of professional pride, "I played him!"—Highway Press.

"Why, man," said the judge, "you can't have your wife arrested for rocking you to sleep."

Out In Kansas

Dr. A. A. Hamerslag, head of the Carnegie Institute, said at a Pittsburgh dinner party:

"I respect that Kansas school principal who forbade the young girls to wear silk stockings or to powder their faces. Even in Kansas the young girls are getting altogether too sophisticated."

"I heard the other day of a male drawing teacher out in Kansas who said to a little girl of 12:

"Minnie, you've neglected your work shamefully, and you must remain with me an hour after school."

Minnie shrugged her thin little shoulders.

"Well, professor," she said, "if your wife doesn't mind, I'm sure I don't."

Wonderful Natural Bridge

The natural bridge is one of the chief natural curiosities of the United States. It is situated in Rockbridge county, Virginia, 115 miles west of Richmond. The bridge spans a deep chasm, through which a small stream flows. It is composed of a hard siliceous limestone in horizontal strata and is the remnant of the roof of a great cave which formerly covered the gorge. This remnant now remains in the form of an arch 215 feet high. The span of the arch is from forty-five to sixty feet and the thickness of its crown is about forty feet, while its average width is sixty feet. A public road passes across it.

Fearful to Use Commas

Even after the introduction of commas and other modern punctuation marks—the period having been in use from time immemorial—English lawyers in the middle ages, down as far as the time of the famous Blackstone, less than two centuries ago, made it a point never to punctuate pleadings or other important documents. They knew that a comma, one way or another, would change the meaning and, fearing they might place the comma in the wrong part of the sentence, they eschewed its use altogether.

FIERCE BATTLE RAGING BETWEEN CARRANZA AND REBEL FORCES

FREIGHT CAR TIE-UP DRAWS ATTENTION OF U. S. OFFICIALS

Concerted Action To Relieve Freight Congestion In U. S. Becomes Imperative Necessity

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 13.—It still threatened a slowing down of freight traffic in the United States, and a concerted action to relieve freight congestion on American railroads in order to prevent a serious curtailment of production and the attention of all the commercial agencies, which deal with the national arteries of transportation, reports from important terminals across the country that while the situation was not as acute as it was two weeks ago.

Freight Congestion Result Of Inability To Unload Cars Quickly, Say Officials

NEW YORK, May 13.—Freight congestion in the eastern section of the country with its resultant decrease in the already inadequate supply of freight cars, is more a result of the inability of consignees to unload cars quickly than inability of the roads to move cars, railroad officials here said today.

The roads were almost unanimous in asserting that effects of the recent strike of switchmen and carmen had been counteracted by the return of a majority of the strikers to work and the employment of other men to replace strikers still out.

Some of the present congestion, however, was admitted to be the result of piling up of freight during the strike, but this, officials declared, was being speedily cleared up.

A strike of union longshoremen and the refusal of union truckmen to handle freight moved by non-union longshoremen was said to have a marked effect on the slowness in unloading cars and making them available for national freight.

Plans to break the trucking angle of the tie-up were under consideration today at a meeting of a trucking committee named by six of the city's large commercial organizations. Colonel Frederick A. Mulitor, who commanded the 22nd engineers in France, has been appointed by the committee to organize an independent trucking force and evaluate how best made to the war department for the use of 400 army trucks stationed in and near New York.

Underwood And Heflin Are The Winners

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 13.—Returns gathered by local newspapers from 65 of the 67 counties, but with a number of precincts missing today strengthened claims of the Underwood and Heflin supporters that their candidates had been nominated for United States senator in Tuesday's state-wide Democratic primary. These returns gave Senator Underwood 45,925 votes as against 10,070 for Musgrove and 10,169 for Weasley.

Representative Heflin, who was seeking the short term nomination, led the field with 31,905, O'Neal and White being close contenders for second place with 15,920 and 17,402 votes respectively.

DEPOSED MEXICAN PRESIDENT PERSONALLY DIRECTS LOYAL TROOPS

VERA CRUZ, May 13.—(By The Associated Press)—Furious fighting between rebel troops and forces commanded by President Carranza occurred yesterday at Hacienda Tamariz, on the Mexican National railroad north of San Marcos, state of Puebla, according to dispatches received here. The area of the battlefield is reported to be approximately five square miles. President Carranza is said in wireless messages from Mexico City to have personally directed the operations of his troops for eight hours on Tuesday.

Terrible storms have swept the mountainous region where the struggle is going on and telegraphic communication has been interrupted in the immediate vicinity of the scene of battle. It was known, however, that heavy rebel reinforcements have been sent to San Marcos by rebel chiefs. Artillery being rushed forward to force the surrender of the troops still loyal to the president. General Guadalupe Sanchez, has gone to Esperanza with his personal staff and five trainloads of troops to cooperate in what is believed to be the decisive action of the rebellion. Carranza is about 40 miles southeast of San Marcos.

General Carrillo Aguilar who is at Jalpín, near Orizaba, is begging the rebel authorities for permission to join the president and share in his fate. General Aguilar on Tuesday sent word to the rebels that he desired to pass through the lines to San Marcos and permission was given on the condition he would lay before Carranza the true situation and tell the president of the guarantees given him by General Obregon, through a military commission headed by General Trevino. When this reply was received by General Aguilar he broke down and pleaded that he be permitted to go to President Carranza and stand by his side to the end.

American destroyer No. 202 and the transport Maumee arrived here today.

General Obregon has spread broadcasts by telegraph an appeal to the people to return to their customary vocations. In explaining the cause of the revolution, he says a revolt was necessary "to liberate the country from a regime which was breaking down the intellectual and material life of the people and which was violating laws."

And the Women Won

CHEYENNE, WYOMING, May 13.—Women will occupy all positions of the government of Jackson, Wyoming, as a result of the defeat of the men candidates in the election, according to unofficial returns. Two tickets were placed in the field, one consisting only of women, the other of men. The only issue in the campaign was that of sex.

Socialists To Nominate Eugene V. Debs

NEW YORK, May 13.—The socialist party machinery was all set today for the nomination this afternoon of Eugene V. Debs, as its standard bearer in the approaching presidential election. Although Debs is serving a two-year term in the federal prison at Alcatraz for violation of the espionage act, he has been agreed upon by all leaders of the party as the logical man to lead the ticket.

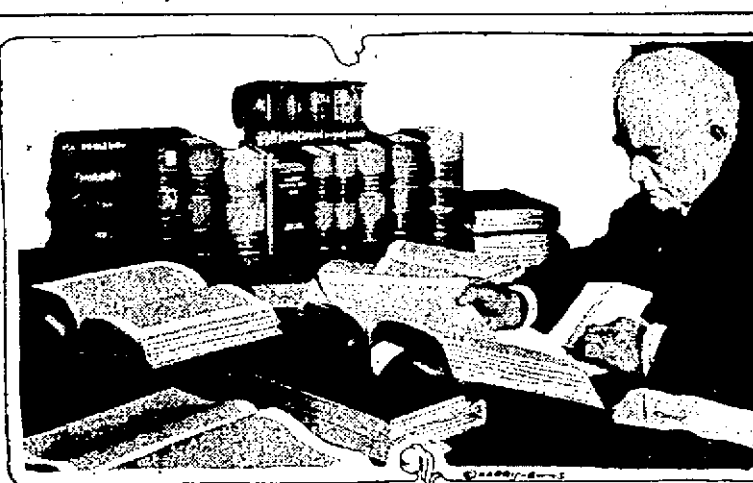

No candidate has been decided upon for the vice presidency. Party leaders predicted that the vice presidential contest would be between Senator Stephen M. Johnson of Chicago, general counsel of the socialist party and Prof. Scott Nearing.

When the delegates reconvened this evening they began consideration of the party's platform for the 1920 campaign. The Illinois delegation led its substitute ultra-radical platform ready to offer in place of the one submitted by Morris Hillquit for the regular platform committee but it was predicted that the "conservative" group in the convention would put through their platform with only minor amendments as they did the adoption of principles.

The convention will conclude its deliberations tomorrow. The delegates there then will go by special train to Washington, where a demonstration will be held Saturday in behalf of amnesty for political prisoners. A committee will call upon Secretary Daniels to place before him memorial on the subject for President Wilson's consideration.

NEW YORK, May 13.—Senator Bruce W. Johnson will make a tour of the large cities in the east and middle west between now and the date of the Republican convention in Chicago, with a view to placing his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination before business men, it was announced at Johnson headquarters here today.

Statements were given, but it was said no itinerary would include New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Cleveland or Chicago. Senator Johnson's tour is designed to connect a series of literature disseminated among business men picturing him as an executive.

Saw Way Out of Jail

ANDON, O., May 13.—Six prisoners, indicted for first degree murder; Dan, three of them charged with first degree murder, escaped early today a $10,000 robbery of a bank in a room in the county jail. They sawed their way through two sets of bars, made ropes of bed blankets and dropped to the ground. Discovery of the jail delivery was made when the turnkey called the prisoners for breakfast.

OPENING STOCKS

NEW YORK, May 13.—Lack of buying power effected further shrinkage of quoted values at the moderately active opening of today's stock market. Over night dealers dealing with the general industrial and financial conditions were mostly of a character to give renewed encouragement to short account. Pressure continued to concentrate in stocks, equipments, motors and textiles in which reactions averaged a point. Investment rails also lost ground on prospects of a new strike in the middle west and special ties reflected additional liquidation.

Hoosier G. O. P. To Select Its Delegates

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., May 13.—Delegates at large to the Republican national convention in Chicago next month were to be selected; a complete state ticket nominated and a platform adopted when the Republican state convention reconvened here today for the closing session. Ratification of the nominations of United States Senator James E. Watson, who was supposed to succeed himself, and of Warren T. McCray, of Kentucky, who received a majority of the votes cast at the state wide primary election last week for governor, also was to be made.

With the exception of places on the state bench, secretary of state and superintendent of public instruction, every nomination will be strongly contested, it was said.

The announcement of State Chairman E. M. Washburn, that he would not permit his name to go before the convention as a candidate for delegates at large was said to have clarified the situation relative to the selection of Indiana's "big four." It was the belief of leading state Republicans that the delegation at large will be made up of four delegates, one from each of the four largest counties of the state.

The failure of Major General Wood's supporters to obtain unequalled instructions in more than three weeks of the 13 district meetings last night, in which Senator Hiram Johnson (R.) retained two district delegations and eight favored going to Chicago unopposed, led to a general belief that the state convention will follow a similar course and that the delegates at large will be unopposed.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS)

Mexican rebel forces seem to be rapidly closing in on President Carranza, and all that remains of his army, entrenched in the hill country between San Marcos and Apizaco, 150 miles northwest of Vera Cruz. The stage for the final act of the drama of the revolution is apparently being set and rebel chiefs are evidently determined to capture the president, who fled from his capital last Friday.

General Trevino, one of the leading figures in the revolution, has gone to Apizaco, state of Oaxaca, for the purpose of protecting the life of Carranza in the event he is made prisoner.

Rebels appear to cheer up once more details of the flight of Carranza and what threatens to be his final stand. When he left Mexico City Carranza is alleged to have taken with him government funds amounting to $2,000,000 pesos. His train was stopped between Apizaco, state of Oaxaca, and San Marcos, state of Puebla, but the president and the troops accompanying him in his flight, made their way down the railroad for a distance of approximately 25 miles before being halted by rebel forces.

Mexican rebels along the Mexican border, have gone over to the rebels without a struggle. The Carranza officials fleeing across the international border are hoping it will be possible to limit the presidential election to July, according to the provisions of Mexican law. For this purpose they desire the appointment of a provisional president who will give assurances the election will be conducted fairly.

ENGINEERS AND FIREMEN MAY GO ON A STRIKE

PITTSBURGH, May 13.—Officials of the Pennsylvania, Baltimore and Ohio, and the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroads, announced at an early hour this morning that while they had not received verification of the report that engineers and firemen would strike today, they were prepared to meet any situation which might develop.

Officials of the railroad brotherhoods expressed the opinion that a majority of the men who attended last night's meeting, at which it was reported the engineers and firemen decided to walk out today, were employees who had been on strike for a month and they said they did not believe the reported strike would materialize this morning.

In event the engine crews do strike the effect of the walkout would not be known until later in the day, representatives of the roads said.

Last night in the tournament conducted by the Selly Bowling League, the Slicers, No. 3, rolled into fifth place. This was a big surprise to the fanbase, who had it all planned what they would do with the prize they would receive by winning fifth. For the Slicers, No. 3, C. Williams was the bright and shining light, getting 331 pins. E. Sikes was also in good form. The Blue Slicers, by getting 1200 pins, found themselves at the bottom of the heap, but if they should stay there, they will be more fortunate than the sixth players. C. Shiel, also lowered the previous low score by one pin.

On Friday night one five team team, the outlaws, will roll and at this time the Slicers will start with the following men participating: P. Holstetter and Omaha and Pittenger and P. Holstetter.

Beautiful Roman Fountain. The Piazza di Trevi in Rome is so revered by the natives that they have always had a saying, "He who drinks of its waters will again come to Rome." The fountain occupies as much space as many a temple, filling it does the entire open space of the square. Its lofty columns, high entablatures and great arched niches in which stand various mythological figures, are its crowning features. In the central niche is a colossal Neptune and below him are sea horses over which pour and splash in many streams a river of water from one basin to another, finally spreading out in a broad expanse like a lake.

Willing to Take a Chance. Mother was trying to give her small son a dose of castor oil, and after much coaxing and pleading he would not swallow it. HUNTINGTON HI IS AFTER MATCHES

A letter from Huntington High has been received at the local high school, asking if there are any wrestlers or pugilists in the local institution. Huntington High desires to arrange for some boxing and wrestling matches with the sportsmen of P. H. S. The matter has received no further attention in view of the fact that no sponsors of this line of athletics are known at P. H. S.

French Champ Knocked Out

JEFFERSON CITY, N. J., May 13.—Law Teacher of Philadelphia scored a technical knockout over Georges Page, the French lightweight boxing champion in the sixth round of a scheduled twelve round bout here tonight.

The Frenchman had been knocking down four times in the fifth round. At the beginning of the sixth round he became dizzy, standing with his head on his hands. He was then stopped and dropped in the first round exchange in which he was knocked out by Taylor.

Willis Jumps Senators

IRONTON, May 12.—The Columbus season's service. The paper states that Willis is all speculation on Joe Willis. It is known that Willis had been disappointed for some time but it was not until his contract with the Senators was signed that he would jump his contract as one of the papers states. Willis has been in Ironton since he left the Columbus Dispatch of Sunday. The Columbus Dispatch of Sunday had a cartoon of Joe Willis by the name of Willis. Willis saw several "To Ironton."

LOUISVILLE, KY., May 12.—Kentucky Hospitality invited Louisville $975,000 from Derby visitors. It has been estimated.

And, among the city's 23,650 guests—none was found to complain that the holiday was not worth the price.

The figures are based on Matt J. Winn's estimate that 10,000 persons attended the running of the classic and tentative figures from hotel men, restaurant proprietors, merchants and others who shared in the reaping.

Assuming that at least 25,000 of the attendants were outsiders and that one who spent less than $50 while there, the total left by these visitors "strangers in the city" would be increased to $750,000, it was declared.

$1,000,000 is Grand Total

The total amount spent by hotel, restaurant and outsiders combined, while in their derby holiday, is placed at a little more than $1,000,000. Figures given include admission fees collected at Churchill Downs.

It is estimated that at least 12,000 visitors remained over night, either Friday night, Saturday night, or both nights. Taking two nights as an average and estimating that rooms—for a mere place to sleep—cost an average of $4, it is declared that the sum guaranteed by hotel proprietors, boarding house keepers and persons "just accommodated," would be $96,000.

May 13—Electric vs. Lactones, Play House alleys.

Dr. E. C. Jackson's Turkey was practically eliminated from the second half race in the Masonic Bowling League, last night, when the Diamonds waxed them two out of three in a desperately contested series. Had Captain Jackson been up to form, there is no question but the Turkeys would have grabbed up the three games. But he did so, no one seems to know and the doctor cannot explain. He tried desperately hard, but for the life of himself could not get the range. His players were in fair form, especially the hard and Bauer, who were up in the king row all evening, the former carrying 666 and the latter 515. C. E. (Tink) Nodder was the heavy power for the Diamonds, getting 524, with Updegraff second, making a show of 488. F. J. Baker started out with 204, and then fell by the wayside, finishing with 190, not so bad, after all. Captain Egan—well, he's a good one, all right, all right, and need to be a pumpkin as a bowler, but he is a great left seems to have done a work too well and he just plain does and does the best he can. The scores:

SEIZING THE OUTPOSTS

A FRED J. Beveridge, of Indiana, who assumed to come back from the political graveyard, has been thrust back thence by the Republican national convention.

Thereby hangs the beginning of a contest that is going to rock the party from center to circumference. Beveridge followed Roosevelt in the ill-starred bid of 1912 and was laid in the most humiliating Johnson, second chief of the bolt, has showed marvelous signs of quickening. So much so that he has become a big factor in the presidential race. It is his purpose to galvanize the party rather than himself by putting some progressive pep into it and as temporary chairman of the convention Beveridge with his matchless oratory was the surgeon to perform the injection.

This does not appeal to the Old Guard, of course. In control of the national committee it chose that utter conservative, Senator Lodge to open the proceedings and deliver the keynote speech. The end, however, is not there. The ordained process is not only to defeat Johnson in the skirmish but to eliminate him as a presidential factor. Everybody knows the Californian is not out to stand and take a drubbing, or run away. What he believes he is for and vociferously proclaims it to the whole world, even though the whole world be against him. He will fight down to the last ditch and can be depended upon to entertain his enemies to the full.

EVERYWHERE EXCEPT AT HOME

THERE is a sort of general surprise over the statement that General Alvaro Obregon, the rising man in Mexico, is an Irishman.

Yet, there isn't anything unusual in that. The transition from Obregon to Obregon is easy, and Irishmen have played a most important part in the creation and the affairs of the Latin republics and in many have been generals, admirals and governors. It is to their credit that they generally were found fighting on the side of right and liberty.

Indeed, there isn't a Christian country on earth today, that hasn't been embellished and ruled in some form by an Irishman. Irish scholars and colleges gave Germany her start in knowledge. Irishmen have furnished France with countless generals and a president or two. The best there is in Spain was cultured from Ireland. Austria has pinned her hope in an Irishman and England's best generals and admirals have nearly always been Irishmen.

Strangest of mockeries you can't keep an Irishman down, except on his native heath and for eight hundred years he has got the worst of everything there and none of the best. Still for what Ireland has lost the world has gained through her loss.

Sugar is selling at from 25 to 30 cents a pound, dependent upon locality and store. There is a reason for this. Some people, who are never satisfied with anything an administration to which they are opposed does, caterwaulled around until sugar was taken from under government control as to price. Because the supply was scant and the price somewhat stiff they put all the blame on the food commission. Now sugar is scarce and the price doubled. May be another reason why sugar is high is that the farmers are not raising much sorghum cane. During the war Herb Hoover urged them to plant the product to have therefrom just ordinary molasses, a substitute for sugar in many uses. His injunction was largely followed. Since the war cultivation has gone back of what it was before, far back.

They are not loved when they can't live up to class. Switzerland has intimated to the various kings and kingdoms that found asylum in her confines, when royalty was going to smash that their town would be better than their company. You see the Swiss are a thrifty people. These unwashed heads have to skin and pinch to make both ends meet and their space is needed for the money monarchs of America, who are expected to flock hitherward this summer.

If anybody had an idea that Josephus Daniels, the best secretary the navy ever had, wouldn't make an equally good witness before a snoring committee from congress, where the honor of the navy was concerned, he is at full and free liberty to change his opinion. Josephus is certainly handing it to 'em straight from the shoulder.

Can't please 'em all. Here's congress investigating the labor bureau for dealing too leniently with communists and "sich" and right over there is the Socialist convention at Chicago denouncing the same bureau because it has used the methods of Russian Czarism in casting into dungeon and deporting men guilty of no crime but that of free speech.

Expressions made by the Socialists in national session. At Chicago show that they don't think anything more of the two old parties than is thought of them.

A Columbus preacher would put a dog tax on bachelors over 30. What have the dogs done to deserve that?

THE DIARY OF AN ENGAGED GIRL

IS CECIL IN LOVE OR TEMPORARILY INSANE?

Got back from Philly this morning tired, but refreshed. The family remarked on my pale cheeks, and I plucked one of them and told me I just knew that I had had the time of my life. He is the dearest thing. On top of hugging me to pieces he fished out a most thrilling emerald ring for his Lindsey, which sent me into fits of delight. Assured me it was not a wedding present, just a little love-between gift, you know.

Mother was glad to see me, and asked me if I had behaved as I should, while I was away. As for Aunt Cecilia, she just dined about, she was so glad to see my smiling face again. I just know they all miss my exciting self, when I am away. That's how I should be. My room has been straightened up (which means that I never can find the objects most dear to me) in my absence, and mother has bought me a new negligee. So everything is well.

Cecil lounged in to see me round lunch time, and asked me what sort of a time I had had. The boy looks a bit thin, and his eyes affected me strangely. I wonder if he could be in love with me. It would be strange, for I am everything that he most disapproves of, I imagine. But then he is so eccentric that I don't for a moment put it by him to fall for his direct opposite, and some one as unsocial as him in every way as a buttercup to a tree?

He told me that the home had been ghastly still and dull since I had departed, and that he had not enjoyed a single meal, they were all so lonesome. Flattering to say the least, eh, what?

I was in an extremely fetching blue negligee, and so cool and composed, you'd no idea, so I told him it was sweet to be missed and all that; then began to comb my hair.

The next thing I felt was a very soft kiss on the nape of my neck, and I turned to find Cecil very wide-eyed.

The Martin

"Next I 'knookin' a home run with the bases full. I'll bet the greatest occasion is playin' a snare drum on the northwest corner of a circus tent," said Pinky Kern, today. "The trouble with orators is that they slip off a silk shirt," complains the lack.

In fact of me. Of course I kept my vaire-faire, and varied him aside lightly, as the duchess's lordness, do so well, you know. Then I told him to remember that he had to behave himself in my room, or else I would have to keep him out.

Nanny said, just as we were at this point, and looked curiously, first at Cecil, then at me. I declare that our longest child, has the greatest knack for appearing at the wrong moment. Who is positively uncanny, and her eyes always seem so green, and affix like the catches one, when one first wants to be caught—sassy?

Of course she explained that neither had sent her to get me for a little, dressmaker waiting, and all that, so there was no really me to call her down for sneaking in. I told her to sit down and help herself to some candy, which Cecil had brought in to me, which she did, gratefully.

After engaging us in a stupid conversation, in which I heard the latest backstairs history, just who the new cook was in love with, and why William, the chauffeur, was going to leave, etc., she announced that she had decided to put on longer frocks—and so. This made me open my eyes, for if Nanny is really growing up I must remember to—remember, at all times!

Heavily I got rid of her, when Cecil came over to the chaise longue I was artfully draped on, and picked me up in his arms, just as though I was a baby. He was trembling, quite violently, and for the first time I was thoroughly frightened—at everything!

He kissed me on the mouth till the breath seemed to leave my body, and then put me back and dashed out of the room.

Six-inch Hawser Only 2 inches.

When you read that a vessel is moored to her pier by a six-inch or an eight-inch hawser you must not think that the hawser is six or eight inches in diameter. Such a size would make a hefty rope, too heavy for handling. The New York Sun explains. Hawsers, under other ropes or cables, are measured according to their circumference, not according to their diameter. Therefore, a six-inch hawser means one that is six inches around, not six inches in diameter, since the circumference of a circle is its diameter as three and one-seventh is to one.

When Stoppers Are Obsolete.

Bottle stoppers have an annoying habit of refusing to come out just when one wants them to do so. The following is a sure way of removing the most refractory stopper. By means of a feather apply a drop or two of salad oil just where the stopper joins the neck of the bottle. Then put the bottle at a little distance from a fire, where it will become slightly warmed, but not hot. The oil rapidly works down in between the stopper and the neck, and by giving the whole thing a slight tap the stopper will come out.

Boers Long Opposed Railways.

For a long time the Boers refused to sanction the construction of railways in the Transvaal on the ground that nowhere were such contrivances mentioned in the Bible.

BILLY WHISKER

FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

"Oh, Night, did you ever see any thing so beautiful in your life as our own America? Three cheers for America!" said Day as the kids saw the land and Night joined in her cheering until the sailors asked one another what could be the matter with the kids, they were bleating and running about so wildly.

"You don't suppose," asked the fat sailor who had first spoken, "it is because they see land, do you?"

"Certainly not," said the steward. "The captain ordered soundings taken while he studied his maps and charts to see where he was. At last the kids heard him exclaim, 'Why we are only fifty miles from Boston.'"

"Boston?" thought Night. Could his ears have heard right? If that is so we must be near the place where we first took ship to sail around the world on the Black Hawk. I'll tell Day and then we will watch the shore for any place that looks familiar and if we see it and the vessel doesn't put into that port we will jump overboard and swim to shore for we can easily find our way home from there. If we were carried on to Boston we never could find our way back to Mr. Woodlark, Papa Billy, and Mamma Nanny."

They strained their eyes for towns but saw nothing that looked familiar and were getting discouraged when in the distance they saw some hills with a little town at their feet and as they came nearer it proved to be the very town the Black Hawk had sailed from.

"They waited until they were directly opposite the harbor and when they saw the captain was not going to stop, with one accord they jumped over the side of the vessel and commenced to swim for shore though it was a good half-mile away. But what cared they? Were they not land good swimmers, and who could not swim twice that distance to reach his native land, after months of absence?"

A Rain Song

Patter, patter, spatter, spatter, Tapping on the window pane. Like a host of fairy dancers. Listen to the rain!

Now, it tumbles, now it sweeps. Castanets of clanging cymbals. And a silver-wind laughter From the dripping, dancing leaves.

Watch the wild gray dance of it Over hill and field. Mist enshrouded, ghoully trees To its magic yield.

Tossing laugh and hurrying leaves Make a cadence sweet. Tull green grasses sway and bend With the rain's light feet.

Patter, patter, spatter, spatter. Night has come and still the rain Sing its thin sweet song and dances On the roof and on the pane. Humid darkness like a curtain Veils the world, no white star gleams.

But the flying feet of the silver rain, Will be dancing through your dreams!

Meticious Logic

The bail had gone over the railings, as balls will in suburban gardens, and a small, but unshakable balaam appeared at the front door to ask for it.

Then appeared an irate father: "How dare you show yourself at my house? How dare you ask for your ball? Do you know you nearly killed one of my children with it?"

"But you've got ten children," said the logical bail, "and I've only got one husband!"—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

New-York - Day - By - Day

BY O. G. MONTYRE

NEW YORK, May 12.—The visitor to New York is impressed at once with the flamboyant note, its metropolitan flare. It takes a few years residence here to see the other side—the side that is not reflected in its seconds, its high life and the economic problems which do not find utterance in deism and grandiose press agent parades on Broadway.

Back of it all there is a quiet and intelligent life as easy going as the so-called hum-drum life of a sleepy village. It finds expression in chorals, unions, public lectures on Ruskin, Walt Whitman, civic discussions and wanderings in the Museum of Natural History.

A stranger was surprised to see a young negro girl in the subway wearing a hat with Thomas Hardy's "Mayor of Casterbridge" in her hands. There are thousands of people who are untainted by the thought of 25 theatre seats, new liberal weeklies and jazz restaurants.

There are sections where people are neighborly and borrow a cup of sugar, sit up with the sick and send a freshly baked pie to the lone woman three flights up. It is not the life that the stranger sees, but it is the life of the average mass.

A visit to any public library at night will reveal a New York with a social consciousness not reflected in first page news of Communist trials. Here they gather for diversion. They know each other and whisper the news of the neighborhood just as the small town folk do when they gather at the post office to await the mail on the 8-11.

There are many who have never tipped a head waiter $10 for a mere bowl or who know little about paid de foi gras. But they do not have to leave a foreigner's point out this wonder of the Metropolitan Museum or the Zoological Gardens.

He is a squat, red-like man who gained a reputation around the cafes for his wit. A venerable widow met him and he paid such fast and furious attention to her that she finally married him. From a cheap theatrical hotel room, he moved to a palace on Park Avenue where he slept on a bed that cost a million francs. He was surrounded by masterpieces of Florentine bronze. When he awakened he could press any one of a row of buttons imbedded in an embossed globe that swung from the head of the bed and get anything from a coffee servant to a physical instructor. The other day the widow died. The day after they buried the husband. They found him in the great library—a library hung in imperial purple, amply stocked with draperies, filled with head-tooled volumes and upholstery set with gold. He was rolling a cigarette out of near alfalfa and brown paper. And he was reading a racy 25-cent novel. Also he wore a dazzling pink silk shirt.

The high-priced hotels are putting on a meeting front at the Park-Tour-Lunch-Work club. They say that they are not anxious for the trade of those who cannot dine there. The hotels say that the charge of profiteering is always made by the man with a champagne taste and a beer income.

A new producer has come to Broadway to dazzle the T. R. M. with the old and new show. It is Johnny Murray Anderson. He used to put on those little revues at Rector's before prohibition came and then he went to the Palais Royal and later put on the "Greenwich Tollies." No one took him very seriously. They never do in New York. But just now he has the most popular musical review on the "Whistle in a Nerve." It has three distinct hits in the songs, "That Reminiscent Melody," "In Fair Japan" and "Valley of Dreams."

Out in Kansas

Dr. A. A. Hammerslag, head of the Carnegie Institute, said at a full-blown dinner party:

"I respect that Kansas school principal who forbade the young girls to wear silk stockings or to powder their faces. Even in Kansas the young girls are getting altogether too sophisticated."

"I heard the other day of a male drawing teacher out in Kansas who said to a little girl of 12:

"Minnie, you've neglected your work shamefully, and you must remain with me an hour after school."

Minnie shrugged her thin little shoulders.

"Well, professor," she said, "if your wife doesn't mind, I'm sure I don't."

Common Feminine Pursuit

"In Borneo," remarked George, "women do the pearl-fishing."

"Don't they everywhere?" demanded Trillicia.—Kansas City Journal.

Wonderful Natural Bridge

The natural bridge is one of the chief natural curiosities of the United States. It is situated in Rockbridge county, Virginia, 115 miles west of Richmond. The bridge spans a deep chasm, through which a small stream flows. It is composed of a hard siliceous limestone in horizontal strata and is the remnant of the roof of a great cave which formerly covered the gorge. This remnant now remains in the form of an arch 215 feet high. The span of the arch is from forty-five to sixty feet and the thickness of its crown is about forty feet. While its average width is sixty feet, a public road passes across it.

Feared to Use Commas

Even after the introduction of commas and other modern punctuation marks, the period having been in use from time immemorial—English lawyers in the middle ages, down as far as the time of the famous Blackstone, less than two centuries ago, made it a point never to punctuate pleadings or other important documents. They knew that a comma, one way or another, would change the meaning and, fearing they might place the comma in the wrong part of the sentence, they eschewed its use altogether.

The rain which fell throughout the evening probably caused many who would have attended the dance to remain away. The grand march failed to materialize, but the other features of the program passed off splendidly and without a hitch. The Columbia orchestra furnished the music for the evening.

Officers Payne, Bonza and Lewis, Chief Diefel and Bauffe each acted as floor managers.

OBITUARY

Mrs. E. Louise Carson

Another of Portsmouth's best known and respected citizens was called to the land of eternal rest Wednesday night at 11:05 o'clock, when the final summons came to Mrs. E. Louise Carson, widow of the late Edward J. Carson, at her home, 518 Second street, death following an extended illness of complications. News of her death will be received with genuine sorrow by her many friends.

The deceased was born in Portsmouth December 29, 1872. She was a daughter of Judge and Mrs. William V. Pack. Her education was received in the schools of the city and on April 28, 1891, she was united in marriage to Edward J. Carson. Mr. Carson, it will be remembered, conducted a grocery at Second and Chillicothe streets for a number of years. He passed away six years ago, in January 1914. Mrs. Carson is the last of a family of fifteen children.

Of three sons born to Mr. and Mrs. Carson, only one, George W. Carson, survives. Alan W. Carson died at the age of three years and Louis D. Carson passed away in 1917.

Mrs. Carson had not been in the best of health for over a year, and after being bedfast several days would again be able to be up and about her home. About three days ago she again became bedfast and from that time on her condition was very serious, death coming unexpectedly to the home.

Mrs. Carson was a member of the Methodist church, and remained almost constantly at her bedside.

The deceased was a loving wife and mother, always looking after the welfare of her loved ones. She spent most of her life at the home on Second street, where she was a tireless worker. She was a faithful member of All Saints' church.

It is requested that no flowers be sent.
